

Towards the end of the film 'The Wizard of Oz,' the wizard tells the Tin Man that a heart is not judged by how much you love, but by how much you are loved by others and judging by the lovely warm messages I have received in countless numbers of cards, Frank truly was loved. That is why we chose that beautiful reading from the letter to Corinthians – which my daughter Helen read just now.

Frank had a lot of love in his heart – love for his family (though he did often describe his sisters as 'crazy'), for his son, daughter, and their partners and also for me, which he told me less than two hours before he died. Basically, and I know that you will find it hard to believe, he was a shy man and did not always wear his heart on his sleeve.

Yes, when I first met him, he was the most shy, retiring lad in our village and I didn't think much of him. Born in Minster Lovell, as a little boy in 'Hitler's war' (as he always described it), he and his mother moved to Oxford so that she could, as a state registered nurse, care for injured service men in the military hospital in Cowley Road. They moved into number 20 Southfield Road with his big sister, grandparents, and an aunt and I can only imagine it was a squeeze. Meanwhile his dad was serving in the Royal Tank Regiment.

Towards the end of the war, with a new baby sister in the family, his mum took up the option to move out into the country to look after land girls who were working on the farms. From then on, Frank became a country boy.

His dad came home at the end of the war to take up a post as a dairyman on one of the big farms in the area. They moved into the village where I grew up and Frank was one of the village boys. We met for the first time when I was nine and he was eleven.

A couple of years later we would travel with the other village children, each day on the school bus to secondary school in Witney and we got to know each other a little better. However, when he was fifteen, Frank left his secondary school to further his education at Army Apprentice College in South Wales. During his time there he became a successful boxer and was part of the college's gymnastic team. He also learnt the trade of sheet metal working which gave him the opportunity at eighteen to join the Royal Engineers as a regular soldier.

Whilst he was at college, he found out that some of his fellow students had letters from girlfriends at home and he didn't. He told his mum and she decided to do something about it.

At this point, I must pay tribute to Frank's mum as she was a most astute lady and had already singled me out (I have recently realised) as a suitable girl for her Frank. Well, how right she was! At a W.I. meeting she gave Frank's address to my mum and asked her if Rosanne would like to write the occasional letter to him. Well, I did. Then in the holidays we would meet up and enjoy each other's company – long walks, riding our bikes to the cinema in Witney and endless days by the river. Frank would fish, I would take a book and there was usually a picnic. Our friendship grew but it took two years before he held my hand and another six months before he kissed me. (Boy, was he shy!).

After basic training in the army he was deployed with his unit to Kenya, originally for one year. But that year turned into three. He was in charge of a section of soldiers who cleared tracks through the jungle to build roads and bridges in order to facilitate military movement during the Mau Mau uprising. Frank often explained to me the skill gained in using high explosives to blow up large trees. He had the time of his life!

JOHN SHREEVE ARTICLES FROM PAST CHRONICLES

A Date from the Past

October 2008

Scientists in Jerusalem have managed to germinate a date Palm seed which has been carbon dated as being just over 2000 years old. If it grows to full stature and bears fruit, they are going to name it 'Methuselah'.

How wonderful to think that this seed from a tree that might well have been growing when Christ was alive in the Holy Land, could be flourishing now. It was found in the Dead Sea area – so that may not be so dead after all!

We ourselves have come across a Yew Tree in Kent which was officially authenticated as being over a thousand years old. This had a signed certificate from the Archbishop of Canterbury and David Bellamy, no less.

There's a movement at present throughout the country to identify and protect old and special trees. And why not? – for they are as much a part of our heritage as are old buildings. The 'Parliament Oak' under which King John convened a special meeting of Parliament is still there. The tree which Elizabeth I was sitting under when she received the news that she was to become Queen is still to be found near Hatfield House. If we are at all keen on our country's history, we should support such movements.

REAL ADVENT CALENDAR from the Meaningful Chocolate Company

The Real Advent Calendar is the UK's only Fairtrade chocolate Advent calendar, which comes with a free 24-page Christmas story-activity book and supports charitable causes.

The 2021 Real Advent Calendar has a new design and is a fun way for parents, grandparents and godparents to share the Christmas story. There is a fairtrade chocolate and a line of the Christmas story behind each of the 25 windows. The book has a page for every day of Advent, expanding on the Christmas story and includes some fun challenges.

In addition, the support of a children's hospital from sales profits, a schools and youth competition included in the book, and free online all-age worship material make The Real Advent Calendar something special - a great resource.

No other calendar enables parents and children to experience the Christmas story for 24-days, and be challenged to do some good during the season. The Real Advent Calendar is designed to share and celebrate the true meaning of Christmas so that Christ is not written out of Christmas.

It's just £4.50. There will be a Parish order, the deadline for which is Sunday 31 October. There is a signing list in each church or you can speak to/phone/email Lesley Williams

Also available are:

chocolate orange Christingles
£3.50

'Christmas blessings' chocolate bars – milk, dark and orange chocolate, all £3.00.

They don't feature on the order list so just add them.

SAFEGUARDING IN COWLEY PARISH

You will have noticed that this piece is in Chronicle every month..... because it is so important.

As a Parish, we are committed to the Christian care, nurture of, and respectful pastoral ministry with, all children and all adults but particularly those who are vulnerable in any way.

So we ensure that our policies and practice on the selection and training of all those staff and volunteers with any responsibility within the Church are in line with safer recruitment principles, including the use of Disclosure and Barring Service criminal records checks where applicable.

We intend that St James and St Francis churches will be safe, caring communities which provide a loving environment where there is a culture of 'informed vigilance' as to the dangers of abuse, including domestic violence and bullying.

We will challenge any abuse of power, especially by anyone in a position of trust in our churches.

We follow statute, guidance and recognised good practice in all our safeguarding procedures and check that all users of our premises agree to do so too.

It is now 3 years since the Diocesan training programme was introduced for all those Parish volunteer roles requiring it - and that training must now be refreshed. Several people have followed the courses individually at home on-line but others are awaiting our offer of group training at St James Centre, both for the Basic Awareness course, which I, as Parish Safeguarding Officer, can deliver, and Foundation, which requires a Diocesan trainer. The first will be planned for later in October.

There's still quite a bit of nudging to do of those volunteers who have not yet said how they will undertake the training.

Following completion of my own 'Leadership' refreshed training, I am committed to raising the safeguarding profile and awareness further by establishing a group to meet 2 or 3 times a year, with clergy, church wardens and leaders of all our Parish groups. The first will happen soon.

Safeguarding is everyone's responsibility – please be sure to report anything you observe that worries you about someone's safety or wellbeing whilst at church or on line.

It is just as important during this strange part virtual, part reality time; the situation throws up its own safeguarding and welfare issues. Please remain vigilant.

ST FRIDESWIDE PILGRIMAGE to Christ Church Cathedral Saturday 16 October

Christians have felt drawn to pray at the Shrine of St Frideswide for many centuries. Indeed, the Priory on which our Cathedral was built was an important destination for medieval pilgrims. The Shrine is the oldest monument in the Cathedral, though what remains is only the platform on which the actual Shrine rested. Many came to pray for healing in the belief that the saint could cure them of a wide variety of complaints. In the 16th century Catherine of Aragon prayed at the Shrine in the hope of giving birth to a son. Today, people remain drawn to the Latin Chapel and the Shrine it houses because they sense this is a place where the veil between our earthly life and the Kingdom of Heaven is very thin. It is a place that has been soaked in prayer over the centuries.

Following the success of the pilgrimage in 2019, its cancellation in 2020, this year there will be a slimmed-down St Frideswide Pilgrimage on Saturday 16 October.

There will be five guided walking routes, ranging from 1.5 miles to 9 miles, for a maximum of 25 people in each group, to the Cathedral, where there will once again be prayer stations. Tea will be served in the Great Hall before a special service at 5:00 pm.

The organisers also hope to be able to accommodate a limited number of pilgrims who are unable to walk and just wish to attend the tea and service, but this will be confirmed nearer the time according to COVID conditions.

Please note that booking is essential. Details and free tickets are available on the website.

CAMINO to Santiago de Compostela, Galicia – the Way of St James

2-9 October with and for Traidcraft Exchange

Lesley Williams

When you read this, Lesley will hopefully, PCR test permitting, be walking the way in a group of 15 from all around the country.

Here's the itinerary, walking 112 km/70 miles over 5 days

Saturday 2 October fly Stansted to Santiago – bussed to Sarria

Sunday 3 walk Sarria to Portomarin 22 km

Monday 4 walk Portomarin to Palas de Rei 24 km

Tuesday 5 walk Palas de Rei to Arzua 29 km

Wednesday 6 walk Arzua to Amenal 21 km

Thursday 7 walk Amenal to Santiago 16 km pilgrims' service in the cathedral, at the shrine of St James the Great, where tradition holds that the remains of the saint (our saint) are buried.

Friday 8 a day in Santiago – or a trip to Finisterre

Saturday 9 fly back

I plan to post updates and photos on facebook during the week.

Because my COVID-19 vaccine was in the trial for Novavax, which is still not approved for release and therefore, although accepted and recorded on the NHS app, is not recognised internationally, I have had to take a 'fit to travel' PCR test and must do an antigen test before returning, as well as the day 2 test on return, but thankfully do not have to quarantine on return.

My 250.5 mile walk during April raised an amazing £1,375, and with some other donations, I have now donated £1,875 to Traidcraft Exchange, which I have discovered has hit the requested target as I am paying my own transport and cost of living fees. But I will hope to top it up to a tidy £2,000 when I return with my stories.

YCCN RELAY

Members of the Young Christian Climate Network, joined along the way by many who are not so young, are walking a 750-mile relay from the G7 summit in Cornwall in June to the COP26 conference in Glasgow in early November.

In the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, there has been recognition that “We’re in the same storm, but not in the same boat”. As young people under 30, YCCN members are mindful that we are on the course of another storm too; over half of all emissions have been released in our lifetimes, and global average temperatures are set to rise by several degrees over the decades ahead. The consequences of this storm will not be felt equally, but they will be felt acutely.

The climate crisis is a reflection, and a cause, of deep injustice in the world. This crisis arises from our abuse of God’s creation, and our broken relationship with our neighbours worldwide who suffer most from its consequences. The biblical mandate is to care for creation, and lament its exploitation. YCCN demands systematic change on a global and a local scale

YCCN is urging the UK government to:

1. reinstate foreign aid budget to pre-COVID levels
2. secure agreement from rich countries to at least double the decade-old promise of $100bn a year for climate finance
3. ensure finance for climate-induced loss and damage
4. push for debt cancellation so climate-vulnerable nations can better confront the climate crisis and other urgent priorities

The route during October :

1 October	Durham
3 – 7 October	Newcastle residency
12 October	Bamburgh
13 October	Lindisfarne, Holy Island
14 October	Berwick
15 October	Dunbar
20 -24 October	Edinburgh residency
28 October	Motherwell
30 October	Glasgow

YCCN Aims: Connect – Act – Grow

To connect young Christians into an inclusive community engaged with climate justice.
To take and facilitate collective action towards climate justice, motivated by faith.

To see ourselves and our communities grow in passion and understanding, learning with humility and reflection

Please pray for the walkers, the relay coordinators, hosts on the route, financial supporters – and the impact of the relay

Prayer for the COP26 climate summit

Loving God,

We praise your name with all you have created.

You are present in the whole universe,
and in the smallest of creatures.

We acknowledge the responsibilities you have placed upon us as stewards of your creation.

May the Holy Spirit inspire all political leaders at COP26 as they seek to embrace the changes needed to foster a more sustainable society.

Instil in them the courage and gentleness to implement fairer solutions for the poorest and most vulnerable, and commit their nations to the care of our common home.

We ask this through Our Lord Jesus Christ your Son.

Amen
